FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Geva Theatre Center Announces
Auditions for the role of 13 year-old “Alice” in the World Premiere Production of
*Looks Like Pretty

Rochester, N.Y., January 30, 2020 - Geva Theatre Center is looking for two girls to share the role of “Alice” in their upcoming world premiere production of Looks Like Pretty. Alice is 13 years old, African-American. One of the three principal characters in the play, Alice is Gloria’s only daughter, and has recently been reunited with her. She is finding her way in the new world of Rochester. She has seen too much and is a little too smart about the way of things.

The two young actresses must be available for periodic rehearsals after school and on weekends beginning March 6th. 32 performances, March 31 – April 26, will be split between the two Alices. A stipend will be paid.

Auditions will be held by appointment on Monday, February 10, 4pm – 6pm. To schedule an audition, please call Geva at 585-232-1366 to reserve a slot. Please bring a recent photo to give to the Geva monitor. An audition form will need to be filled out on the day and excerpts from the play will be made available upon securing an appointment.
